

As owner of an independent record label and music publisher and as a former broadcaster myself, I am insulted by the NAB's current attempt to stifle competition through their support of HR 4026. I am a very satisfied subscriber to XM Satellite Radio, and would be delighted to receive local traffic and weather over the channels of my choice. Terrestrial broadcasters cannot be allowed to restrain new entrants from providing competitive local information services. These services will complement satellite radio's already superior programming. I oppose HR 4026, and urge you to do the same. It is anti-consumer, anti-choice and anti-competition.
